【Register Now】Virtual Career Fair 2022: Decoding Arts Administration

How do arts administrators assemble pieces and construct arts performances and galleries? What had driven the current arts leaders entering the industry? What are the essential elements for youngsters to take note of before kicking start their career? What sort of talents are arts organizations looking for?

This June, Hong Kong Arts Administrators Association (HKAAA) is presenting our signature event - Virtual Career Fair 2022: Decoding Arts Administration, to decode arts administration and its essential ingredients and flavours. The fair will include Career Booths, Arts Administrator 101 Talks, Career Coaching and CV Clinic, aiming to provide a vivid picture of the arts and cultural industry. Join us and meet arts practitioners in real life and your potential employers!

【Highlight Recap】Essential Guide to Effective Arts Management - #7

Class #7 - A Legal Guide to Rules for Operating Arts Groups

In class 7, we are honoured to invite Mr Alex Fan (Honorary Legal Counsel, Hong Kong Arts Administrators Association) as our speaker again to guide us through the legal basis and requirements for operating arts groups.

To begin with, Alex cited the eligibility of different arts grant schemes, leading participants to look into the legal structures of arts groups. Generally, an art group can be a registered Society, a Limited Company or a Charitable Institution. Alex then further explained the differences in liability, operation and (...)

The 2022 HKBU AVA BA Graduation Show sails the Ship of Theseus, guiding our graduates through the turbulent seas to find their coast.

Making is remaking. The tempering of thought and refinement of imagination. Ideas combine to make an alloy of the old and new. We take it apart, put it back together, only to take it apart again. In the hundreds of iterations, are we holding onto anything?

Bridging the virtual and the real, our graduates sketch their blueprints. In the abandoned, assimilated, and inexpressible, is forged each graduate's ship.
