

Recruitment – Assistant Recording Engineer

Are you an experienced recording engineer looking for a new opportunity. Sway Music Studio is seeking a talented and motivated individual to join our team! We're looking for someone with a passion for recording live instruments and a proficiency with Pro tools.

Job Duties & Responsibilities

- Manage and maintain the studio's day-to-day operations
- Provide audio and video support for all stages of production, pre-production, production and post-production for a variety of deliverables.
- Schedule recording sessions, rehearsals and equipment use efficiently
- Knowledge of recording sessions and studio operations
- Communicate with the clients and artists to understand their specific needs and expectations
- Provide tours and explain studio facilities and services to potential clients
- Assist clients in selecting the appropriate services

Requirements

- Basic knowledge of recording equipment and handling multiple tasks simultaneously.
- Confident usage of Pro Tools, Logic Pro X and Ableton, basic Plugin Application
- Ability to set up, calibrate and operate studio recording equipment.
- Proficiency in both Windows and Apple operating systems.
- Consistency and reliability
- Excellent time management and communication
- Flexibility in working hours, including evenings and weekends.
- Enrolled in or completed a relevant music or audio engineering program is preferred but not required.

Working location

- TST

Interested parties please send your resume including current and expected salary and availability to sylviasun@swaymusicstudio.com

All personal information will be treated strictly confidential and solely for recruitment purposes.