

About AaaM

AaaM (abbreviating Architecture as a Medium), is a design and research studio believing in architecture's power as a medium for all walks of life to engage, communicate and interact. The team has delivered a wide range of award-winning projects ranging from curation, public engagement, creativity education, art installation to spatial and architectural design in Hong Kong, PRC and Southeast Asia.

AaaM has been pursuing social innovation via community engagement, urban placemaking, participative design and creativity education. The team has been regularly engaging public through exhibitions and publications to advocate art and design as a power of change. AaaM values collectiveness and adopt a bottom-up approach in the design and engagement process. The team is looking for passionate design, art and education professionals to join their growing venture.

Our Recent Projects

AaaM has been partnering with local institutions and schools to host creativity workshops for children. It has also been integrating public art installation and children's creative education experience and launched a series of campaigns for participatory design projects for public play spaces in Hong Kong. To date, more than 2,000 children have participated in over 200 workshops across Hong Kong, nurturing the sense of belonging and memory for the city's youth. AaaM is looking for experienced professionals and talents for the following campaigns and projects:

- Participative design projects for art, play and learning related environments that encompass engagement workshops and design executions
- Art and creativity education campaign that advocates design thinking through project-based learning experiences in primary and secondary schools arena

Working with Us

- Part-time job arrangement, may need to work on weekends to suit public workshop arrangements
- Diversified and cross-disciplinary project nature
- Bottom-up design and engagement approach
- offer competitive remuneration that commensurate with experience and skills

Applying

- We wish to hear from you with your CV, your expected salary, and portfolio in PDF format (<10MB). Please email to us at info@aaam.com.hk. All data collected will be used for recruitment purpose only.
- You may also find us at www.facebook.com/aaamarchi or www.instagram.com/aaam_architect

About the Job

Part-time Project Officer (Engagement & Learning)

Description

- Assist planning, organizing, and delivering engaging and interactive workshops for NGOs, schools, institutions, public and etc, for quality and timely delivery
- Assist projects' follow-up and liaise with both internal and external parties regarding the project objectives, outcomes, schedules and logistics
- Assist development and implement of engagement workshop curricula based on design thinking framework
- Assist planning and preparation of engaging and interactive workshop activities and materials
- Facilitate workshops, guiding participants through the design thinking process from empathy and ideation to prototyping and testing
- Assist to foster a positive and inclusive learning environment that encourages creativity and collaboration
- Engage participants through hands-on activities, discussions, and group tasks, and provide support and feedback to enhancing learning experience
- Assess participants' progress and learning outcomes through observation and feedback

Requirement

- Higher Diploma or Bachelor's degree in design, art, education, or a related field
- Minimum 2 years of proven experience in related field, with good understanding of design thinking principles and engagement facilitation
- Previous experience in teaching or facilitating workshops, particularly for primary school students is a plus
- Strong problem-solving skills, organizational skills, time management and attention to detail
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills
- High flexibility to handle multiple tasks and to work under pressure
- Creative and innovative approach with passion to engagement, learning and bringing positive impact to the community
- Immediate availability is a plus